Bennetts BSB BRITISH SUPERBIKES

Welcome to Oulton Park for the final R&G official test of the 2022 Bennetts British Superbike Championship season.

This test comes at a welcome time for the teams and riders following last weekend's opening races at Silverstone and ahead of next weekend's second round of the series back here in Cheshire.

The two circuits couldn't be more different and so everything could change as we look ahead to the next three races in the championship.

Last year this proved to be a strong circuit for both the Ducati and Yamaha teams and so it will be interesting to see who comes out on top when we are back here over the Bank Holiday weekend for the next three races.

Glenn Irwin and Honda Racing UK lead the standings into round two, but this test could prove pivotal to the outcome of the next three races.

We hope you enjoy being back trackside for the final official test of the season and I look forward to welcoming you back here to Oulton Park for the races next weekend.

R&G Managing Director

Welcome to the final R&G Official Test

After an incredible opening round at Silverstone, the Bennetts British Superbikes are well and truly back! There were some unpredictable results across the packed grids but one thing is certain, the wide, flat tarmac of that circuit is very different to Oulton Park…. making today's official test important for the teams.

The test is even more crucial in terms of timing as the teams will be back here in just over a week, meaning it's a great opportunity to get a base setting at this difficult-to-learn, rollercoaster of a circuit.

One rider who will be watched by many on both sides of the fence will be Tommy Bridewell. The always amusing, R&G supported character displayed amazing skill to win at Oulton Park in 2021 from the very back of the grid.

Alongside the blue riband Superbikes, there are a horde of hungry riders eager to prove their metal in the many ultra-competitive support classes. At R&G we live for racing and support riders throughout the paddock and indeed many others across the globe. To this end we run the R&G Rookies' Trophy, which helps to showcase riders as they make the big step up to a new class in 2022.

It's our seventh year as the Official Crash Protection Supplier to the series and you can visit us in the paddock itself, where the R&G Technical Centre showcases the best kit available for road and track to keep your bike moving in the event of an accident or breakdown.

We have thousands of applications, for hundreds of bikes, including core protection items such as Aero Crash Protectors, Tank Sliders and BSB / MotoAmerica-approved Engine Case Covers, alongside essential spares and accessories from trusted brands.

Visit the updated R&G Technical Centre to get your protection today or find out more by visiting www.rg-racing.com

BACK TO WORK

After the opening Easter races at Silverstone, Bennetts BSB is back for the final official test

After an Easter weekend of intense Bennetts British Superbike Championship action, the series now moves on to Oulton Park for a one-day official test in anticipation for next week's Bank Holiday second round.

As the championship arrives in Cheshire, Honda Racing UK's Glenn Irwin heads the standings after completing his first hat trick of wins in Britain's biggest motorsport series.

Rich Energy OMG Racing Yamaha had their strongest weekend to date at the season opener with both Brad Ray and Kyle Ryde bagging podium finishes, and with Oulton Park traditionally proving a happy hunting ground for Yamaha, they will have high hopes ahead of round two.

FS-3 Racing Kawasaki's Rory Skinner and SYNETIQ BMW's Andrew Irwin were podium finishers last time out at Silverstone, so they will be eager to carry that momentum into the official test here, as they aim to add to their top three finishes next weekend.

The equivalent round last season was one to remember for Jason O'Halloran and the McAMS Yamaha team; they took the triple victory and will be confident returning to the Cheshire circuit as they bid to opening their podium scoring account.

O'Halloran will remain the lone McAMS Yamaha at this test as reigning champion Tarran Mackenzie remains sidelined as he continues his recovery from his fractured left ankle from the previous test at Silverstone.

Ducati is another manufacturer who historically has performed well at Oulton Park; Tommy Bridewell was a double winner here last season and the PBM team claimed podiums with Josh Brookes and Christian Iddon.

Bridewell is back for more with the Oxford Products Racing Ducati team and he will be determined to make history repeat itself when we return here for the race next week, whilst Brookes and new MCE Ducati team-mate Tom Sykes will be hungry to bounce back after Silverstone.

There will also be previous race winners including Leon Haslam for VisionTrack Kawasaki and Peter Hickman on the FHO Racing BMW, working to have a strong test here in their quest for a strong result when Oulton Park host the latest clash of the Bennetts British Superbike Championship on May Bank Holiday weekend.
